

2023 BOTANY STUDENT RESEARCH GRANTS

From the Native Plant Society of NM - Otero Chapter

2023 STUDENT GRANTS for BOTANICAL RESEARCH / STUDIES

The Otero Chapter of the Native Plant Society of New Mexico is offering up to $5000 in grants for the 2023 field season. The grant(s) may be awarded to one person or split among several applicants. Grant applications will be considered from New Mexico State University and New Mexico Institute of Mining & Technology upper-level undergraduate and graduate students with career interests in botany, ecology, conservation biology or land management. The project focus must be on plants native to the Chihuahuan Desert Ecoregion. Funds are awarded to assist with the implementation of the research/study project outlined in the grant proposal.

See Application Requirements at <https://www.npsnm.org/about/chapters/otero/> for all requirements and submission guidance.

Deadline for submission of application packet: Midnight, Sunday, April 23, 2023
